FREE FINANCIAL SEMINAR, LED BY BETHPAGE FEDERAL CREDIT UNION, ON PAYING FOR COLLEGE
Valuable Information That Every Parent Needs to Know

Paying for college is a daunting task - whether your child will be attending a New York State public college, an out-of-state school or the priciest of the alternatives, private school. For the 2014-2015 academic year, tuition, fees and room and board at an in-state, four-year public college ran an average of $18,943, according to the College Board.

So how do parents pay for their child's four year degree while still juggling ongoing finances, and without going into heavy debt? On August 17, 2017, Bethpage Federal Credit Union will lead a free seminar for parents on Financial Aid and Paying for College 101: What Every Parent Needs to Know.

Bethpage's expert financial advisors will share valuable tips with parents on budgeting finances, share details about available scholarships, grants and loans still available, discuss payment and savings plans, and more.

Due to the expected large attendance, the seminar will be held at the YMCA Boulton Center for the Performing Arts in Bay Shore - 37 West Main Street. The seminar will begin at 6:00 PM and run through 7:30 PM. To RSVP, call Bethpage at 516-349-4288, or email community@bethpagefcu.com.
